

When control and business performance are everything, you need experts around you to help you make the most of your systems and resources.

Supply Chain Assurance from LRQA helps ensure your supply chain delivers to your requirements.

LRQA Client Case An Example of LRQA Supply Chain Assurance in Action

A leading group of breweries asked LRQA how their Health, Safety and Environmental (HSE) strategy could be improved. The breweries were looking for ideas on controlling and improving performance across their global internal supply chain.

LRQA worked with the breweries to develop a system based on ISO 14001 and OHSAS 18001. To further ensure system deployment, LRQA ran training courses worldwide to train brewery employees on how to put the strategy and system into place.

Throughout system implementation, LRQA delivered audits in more than 20 breweries in eight countries. The work was monitored by the group's HSE director and a project manager from LRQA.

After two years, all sites complied with the HSE strategy and the group's system requirements. As a result of Supply Chain Assurance, HSE performance improved and central monitoring became a possibility as sites used a shared management system.

By working closely with LRQA, our client was able to make their ideas for improving their global supply chain systems a reality.

Rely on LRQA for your supply chain assurance needs – we know having confidence in your supply chain matters.
